

Sinclair's decision to force all their stations to air what promises to be a blatantly anti-Kerry "documentary" without any balancing programming just days before the election is a travesty of what the public air waves are meant to be. It illustrates the tremendous power of corporate consolidation of the airwaves and why YOU should be working to reduce such horrendous concentration of corporate power -- NOT increasing it as you have been.